Hello I am Stokie. Some wanted to call me Steamie and some wanted Smokie. I am part of heat and water and also air and fire so Stokie is part of both of these jobs.

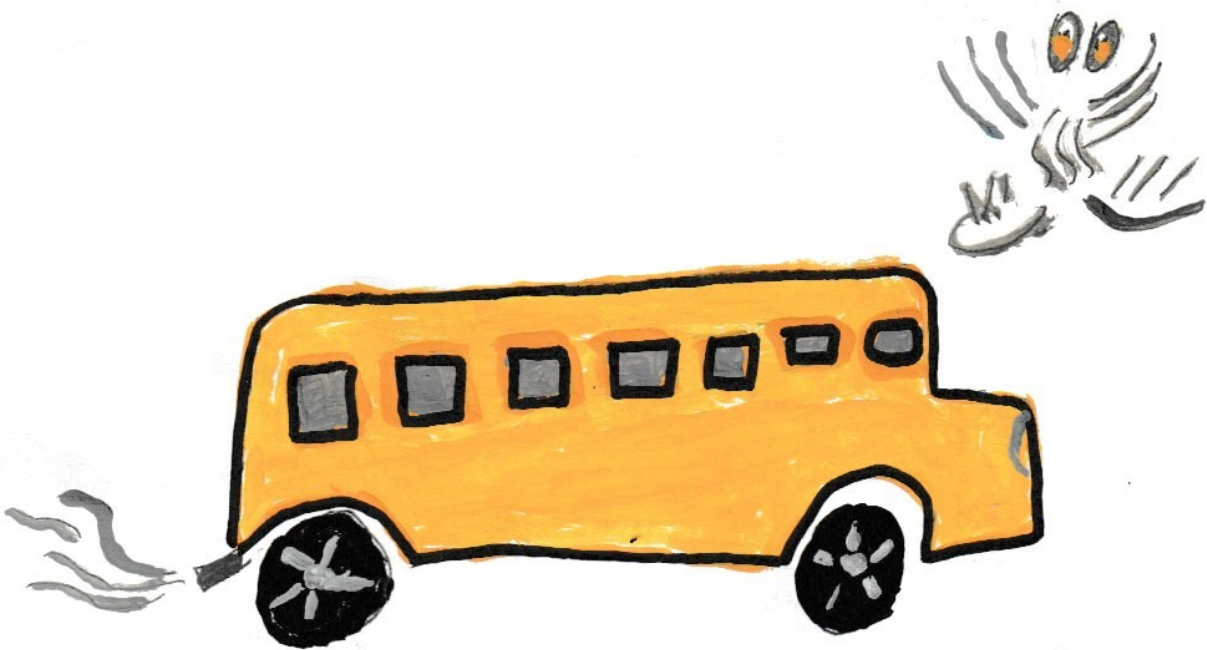

My place on earth has many ways to help. It can seem I am hurting when I am steaming or burning but my job is to clean, repair and I do all I do with people to share.

Choo Choo is my name and running the tracks is my game.

Me and Stokie used to run with coal and steam. Moving forward with others as our team.

Stokie's school bus keeps chugging along almost singing a steam like song.

We pile in the bus going to school along our way happy to be living another happy day.

Ms. Marvelous and Stokie put their two heads together because they have planning and doing no matter the weather.

When they get going there's no stopping them now smoke and steam are real power.

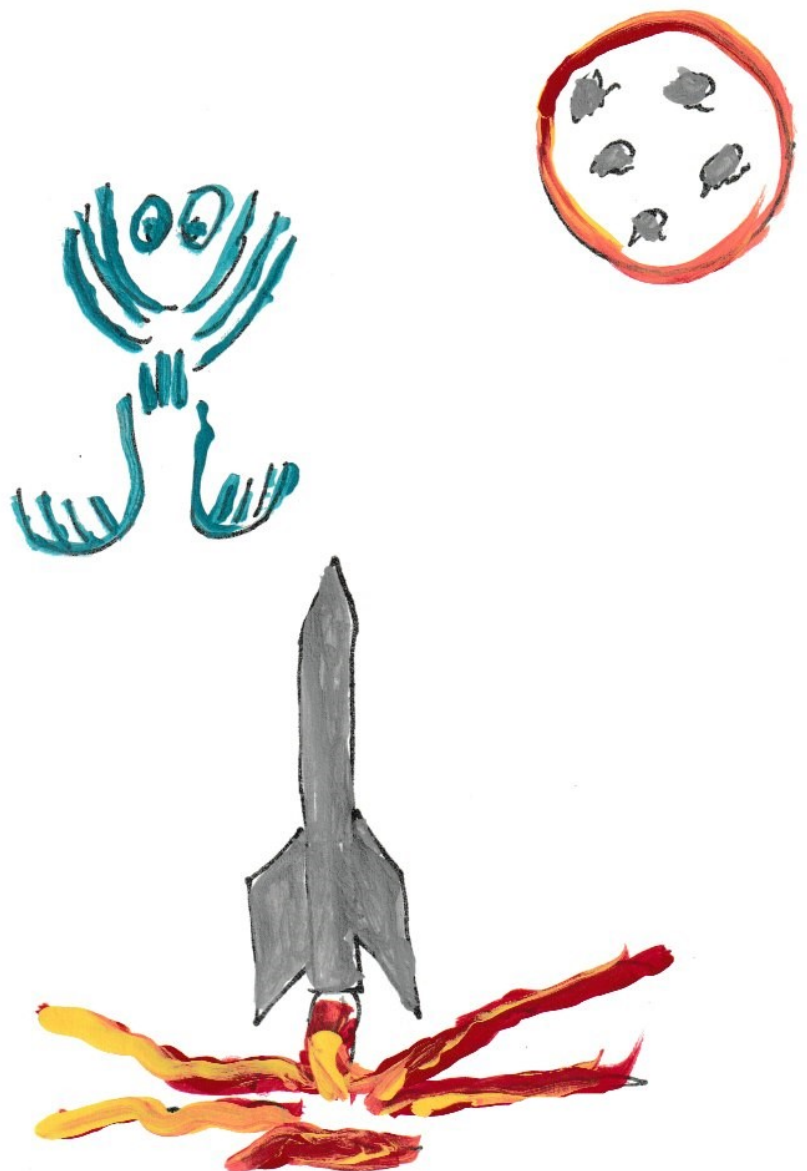

So much in this world can be used for gain to help each other so that we all can attain. Pets and plants are able to grow because wise people know what to do and where to go.

Rocket jimming, jamming making it to outer space at a steady pace. Nothing is in its way to stop the outer spaceway.

Stokie loves climbing high, higher than the sky. The clouds at his command watching and waiting where he will fly.

It's a fact that the sky's the limit and Stokie's in it to finish it.

An airplane can run around the world at full speed. Stokie is there to give it
what it needs.
People can rest
and feel safe up high because people
somewhere figured out how to get where.

For a moment in time one floats along moving so fast it seems and nothing goes wrong. Up we go and then so fast we're where we are going and we are there at last.

A stove at home. How fun it can be.
Without heat under it no cooking we'd see.
The smells so good seems to float in the air. Everything I was worrying about vanishes in thin air.

Thinking and waiting for all the goodies to bake. Stokies on the job with mouthwatering
goodies that can be cooked
or baked.

What a wonderful part of life a stove can be.

A cup of something warm and steamy can fill up the tummy with something dreamy. Spending part of my day with my feet kicked back gives me a feeling there is no lack.

When I give myself time to sip or chug. It feels sometimes
as good as a hug.
So warm and
cozy, everything's just right. Stokie knows how to make steam and foam just right.

A barbeque pit is just what I need. I can get myself ready to have a big feed. So tangy and yummy Stokie cooks it just right as long as I pay attention to what's in my sight.

Little by little everything cooks up. It goes to different colors as it
sears and
bakes.
Roasting all over with natures landscapes.

Nothing like a big barrel of something to burn. Burning clean and natural some people will learn. You burn what needs done keeping in mind that we all live together peace we can find.

What once was fire now could become ash. We follow the rules so we don't waste cash. It all looks so lovely to watch the flames
flickering and rising building upward like a chain.

Cornflour
sends a story with his blanket alright.
He loves
that he sends it out of their sight.

Cornflour tells a funny story for all his pals to see. They're belly laughing so loud and Stokie feels their glee. He joins in with his floating upward he goes. Out of sight somewhere else he's helping others alright.

Stokie's happy when there is a beautiful flame. He knows people love to sit in front of the fire and amuse oneself with thoughts and happiness.

Trees are so beautiful that everyone sees and we use wood for everything used for good.

When trees are burning the idea to learn is that new life is born out of that which is burned

In this life it's true that good comes out of bad

As the world goes around each and everyday we must teach ourselves to find a good way.

Melting and becoming we don't know what's next. We just do our best to build and be blessed.

There is healing smells that Stokie put out. The smells are so yummy Stokie laughs and shouts.

What can seem like danger has a higher use when we accept to choose.

Furnaces burn and make us all warm.

We love
the feeling when our body is just right.

Fireplaces inside are so happy and bright.

A
Fireplace
tells us inside is so good.
We use
what we have only
for good.

Stokie loves candles as you can see.

When he looks into the flame
mysteries he can believe.

There are so many wonders too many to behold but they are all around us and our life they do hold.

Daddy Feel Right had a thought tonight and almost blew his stack.

Stokie
laughed because he knows thoughts are alright.

Both of them think deep about what to do. Thinking right helps them avoid trouble that is true.

Fireworks are crackling all around the night. The colors in the sky make a bright light.

Although they look so pretty so lively in the sky everyone likes to spy them in the night.

We gathered to see the show. We say goodnight to all.

Marvelous Books: The Wonders of a Creative Life: Stokie is a series about four children who encounter various everyday life situations. These two boys and two girls learn how to look at these daily encounters from a unique viewpoint. Jaelin Tayce Hartwell's style is written with intriguing characters. All will be able to gain a strong sense of their own personalities with the help of parents and guided by the fantastical Ms. Marvelous. This fourth book introduces Stokie teaching children how to think about steam and fire. As an added bonus the character Stokie changes colors as his moods and ideas change.

Jaelin Tayce Hartwell is an inspiring writer with an engaging and delightful style. She presents real life struggles with a visionary outlook. Her focus is on building better connections with authority figures as well as strengthening sibling and parent relationships. The main characters give readers the chance to see interactions on everyday encounters that provide parents, teachers and children opportunities to work through and succeed as presented through each character.
